

Operation Blue Roof

is coming to Your Neighborhood

Operation Blue Roof is a FEMA-assigned mission of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Through Operation Blue Roof, you may be eligible for temporary roof repair if you experienced damage due to Hurricane Ivan, and if you live in any of these Florida counties: Escambia, Santa Rosa, Okaloosa, Gulf, Bay, Holmes, Jackson, Washington and Walton counties.

Corps contractors will install the temporary blue roof covering at NO COST TO YOU.

To get this assistance, homeowners must first sign a "Right of Entry" (ROE), which allows Corps staff to access private property and assess roof damage. The ROE, allows Corps contractors to install a temporary plastic covering.

You can complete an ROE form at a site near you. The locations will change periodically in order to accommodate all citizens. To find the nearest site near you, please call 1-888-ROOF-BLU (1-888-766-3258). Installation will occur at the earliest possible date.

The Corps is assigning roofing companies in order to get the greatest number of roofs repaired at the fastest possible pace. We are not working on a 'first-come, first-served' basis. Rather, areas with the highest concentration of severe damage will likely be attended to the most quickly. We will reach every person who has signed an ROE and will provide a temporary roof covering if the Corps determines a temporary repair is possible.

For the latest information on locations, dates and hours to sign a Right of Entry, please call toll free 1-888-ROOF-BLU (1-888-766-3258).

The Corps of Engineers is committed to helping you and your community. We will work to protect you and your family from further harm by the elements. Your security, safety and peace of mind is our priority. Please allow us the opportunity to be of assistance.
